INTRODUCTION

Purpose

The primary purpose of this tenth edition of the South Carolina Foundation Directory is to assist grant seekers in their search for funds to support the programs and projects of their organizations. An attempt was made to include information on all of the active private foundations, community foundations, and grant-making public charities located within the state of South Carolina or registered in South Carolina, AND that also give in South Carolina. Foundations that are located or registered in South Carolina but do not give grants here have been excluded.

This is Part 1 of the Directory, which only contains foundations that have indicated either on their tax return or website that they accept proposals from nonprofit organizations.

Part 2 will be published later, and will include all other foundations in South Carolina, including those that do not accept proposals because they only give to preselected organizations. Part 2 will also include a list of foundations that have been deleted from the previous directory because they no longer exist or have merged with other foundations.

Methodology

Most entries were compiled from information found on 2011-2013 Internal Revenue Service tax returns. Each private foundation is required to file a form 990-PF annually. This form includes information on the foundation’s income, assets, expenses, grants or contributions paid, grants approved for future payment, officers or trustees, address, and telephone number. Form 990-PFs can be accessed via the web at the following sites: guidestar.org or foundationcenter.org. Several of the larger South Carolina foundations publish annual reports and have webpages. When available these were used to supplement the information available on 990-PF forms.

Scope

It must be emphasized that information regarding a foundation’s geographical emphasis and fields of interest is based solely upon examination of the lists of grants awarded reported by the foundation in its IRS return. In most cases, the foundations were not contacted; and thus, the information contained in this directory DOES NOT reflect any official direct policy statements on the part of the foundations themselves.

This directory is intended to be a starting point for individuals seeking information on the foundations included. Individuals are strongly encouraged to refer to additional sources of information before contacting the foundations.
Explanation of Entries

Entries are arranged alphabetically by the indexed version of the foundation name, with a statement at the top of the page as to whether the foundation does or does not accept proposals. The indexed version of the foundation name is also used in all the indexes. The indexed name starts with the family name, followed by the first names when it is a family foundation.

This is followed by the official name of the foundation as it appears on the tax return or website, address and telephone number, when available, with additional parts of the entry clearly labeled to show:

- Web Address (when available – only around 15% of foundations have websites)
- Geographic Focus (where they give most of their grants, either at the county, state, or national level. Some entries may indicate a county and South Carolina, or South Carolina and National. This means that most grants are given at the local level, but some are also given either at the state level or nationally.)
- Notes (details on the foundation’s mission, any restrictions, and how to apply for a grant)
- Subject Areas of Interests (what type of programs the foundations funds)
- Officers and Board Members
- Fiscal Year Ended (the date of the last tax return on record)
- EIN number (Employee Identification Number with the IRS)
- Financial Data (assets, grants paid in the last year, and number of grants funded)
- Year Founded (the year and month the foundation received tax-exempt status)
- Sample Grants (usually lists all or the majority of the grants made the previous year)
- Date of last update of record

PLEASE NOTE that the telephone number given is sometimes from the line on the foundation’s IRS 990-PF return which asks for the location and telephone number of the individual or office which keeps the foundation’s books. In a few cases, this location is in a different city than that shown as the foundation’s address.

The official address may be different from the address used for applications. This is because the official address may be the address of the bank or accounting firm which files the tax return.
Grants Research Collection at the South Carolina State Library

The South Carolina State Library is a Funding Information Network partner of the Foundation Center in New York to receive and make available information on philanthropic foundations. The Grants Research Collection includes numerous reference works published by the Foundation Center and other publishers, periodicals on fundraising, a small number of foundation annual reports, and a wide variety of books on grantseeking and fundraising strategies, grant proposal writing, and the operation of nonprofit organizations.

The South Carolina State's Library hours are 8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Library's reference staff is available to provide assistance in using the Grants Research Collection and can answer factual questions on specific foundations. Some materials are available for loan through the Library's interlibrary loan service. For additional information on this collection see the library's webpage: statelibrary.sc.gov/grants. Individuals planning to visit the State Library to use this collection are encouraged to telephone in advance and schedule a brief orientation to the collection: (803) 734-8026.

Information Available at Other South Carolina Libraries

A copy of this South Carolina Foundation Directory is available free for downloading at statelibrary.sc.gov/grants, and may also be available at each county public library and academic library in South Carolina. Some of these libraries may also have available some basic publications related to grantseeking, fundraising and grant proposal writing.

The Anderson County Library, Charleston County Public Library, Florence County Library, Georgetown Public Library, Greenville County Library, and Spartanburg County Public Library are also part of the Foundation Center’s Funding Information Network. As such, these libraries maintain a collection of foundation directories and related titles. Inquiries regarding these collections should be directed to:

The BlueCross BlueShield of South Carolina Foundation was established in 2001 with a mission to improve health care — and access to health care — by funding projects that directly benefit South Carolina's most vulnerable populations. The Foundation awards grants to assist the uninsured and underinsured, children and adolescents. The Foundation conducts two funding cycles each year, one in the spring and one in the fall. The Foundation will not issue grants to individuals, religious activities, political campaigns or activities that influence legislation, groups seeking funds to purchase tickets or tables at fundraising events, membership drives, sports tournaments, one time or annual events, raffles or auctions.

Greenville, SC  29601

thegrahamfoundation.org

Geographic focus:
Greenville County

Notes:
The Graham Foundation focuses geographically on Greenville, SC and upstate South Carolina. Grants outside of this region will be possible but unusual. The grant application and guidelines are available on their website. Grant applications can be made at any time and will be reviewed at the next Trustees’ Grants Review Meeting. These meetings will generally, but not always, be held in August, November, February and May.
The Graham Foundation:
- Targets making grants which can make a significant difference for the betterment of Greenville and upstate South Carolina.
- Prefers to make grants focused on needs which are specific and contained, such as capital or endowment campaigns, and temporary or restricted supplemental support to an operating budget.
- Will be very cautious in making unrestricted grants for general operating budgets.
- Is not political in nature and grants will not be made for political purposes.
- Will tend to avoid national campaigns, issues, or needs except as focused locally.
- Does not generally support medical facilities or medically oriented requests except, in some cases, requests focused on services to the local community.
- Will make grants only to eligible, tax exempt organizations. Does not make grants to individuals or for individual scholarship.
- Rarely, if ever, will “Purchase a Table” or “Tickets” or anything similar for a fund raising event. Rarely, if ever, will make grants where the purpose of the grant is for redistribution to other organizations.

Notes:
Application forms are available on the website.
Guidelines from the website: We make grants in Chester, Lancaster and eastern York Counties. Historically, grantmaking focused on three major areas: Recreation & Environment, Public Education & Early Childhood and Community Service & Health. Due to the current economic crises in our region, the Foundation now provides funding only for critical basic support services including food, shelter and medical assistance. We will consider grant requests only from qualified nonprofit organizations that can effectively address these needs. We expect to broaden our support once again after the economy improves.
Requests for more than $2,500 will only be considered at the spring and fall Board Meetings. Deadlines are March 1 and October 1. Smaller requests of up to $2,500 will be considered at any time.
Grants are often awarded on a matching basis with other foundations or sponsoring agencies as participants in achieving the match.
In addition to financial support, the Foundation often shares knowledge and connections with community leaders and nonprofit organizations to help address challenges and issues or help create or expand programs that serve our communities.
